MESSAGE

I convey my heartiest greetings and best wishes to all members of West Bengal Police and people of West Bengal on assuming the charge of DG & IGP, West Bengal.

As we all are aware, maintenance of Law & Order and prevention and detection of crime are our core functions. I would expect that all of us should attend to these functions with utmost sincerity and professionalism. People expect a professional, prompt, humane, honest and accessible Police and we all should strive to live up to these expectations. This will also enable in creating a safe and secure atmosphere, where developmental activities can prosper and flourish.

It is essential that we should be empathetic and prompt in protecting and upholding the rights of the poorer sections of the Society, women, children, tribal and others. We need to be prompt in attending to the grievances of people and also respect their Human Rights. We need to redefine community policing and evolve a system which caters to the specific security needs of the common people, where public and police together can work towards creating safe and secure atmosphere.

I take this opportunity to salute those brave personnel of West Bengal Police who have given their lives in our fight against anti-national, extremist and criminal elements in the recent past.

I am sure I will have your whole hearted support and co-operation in delivering proper service to the people of West Bengal and in enhancing the image of the West Bengal Police.

Jai Hind.
